Your Voice Matters

“Policy Council is a group of parents and community members who help make big decisions about our program. They review budgets, help shape program plans, and make sure we are meeting the needs of children and families. The most important part? Parents have a voice. In fact, parents are the majority of the council. That means the families help guide how our program runs. When you join Policy Council, you are not just attending a meeting. You are helping lead the program your child is part of. You are speaking up for children, families, and our community. We truly need parent voices at the table. Your ideas, questions, and experiences matter more than you may realize. If you are interested, I would love to share more information with you.”
